AOFOG Congress Testimonials

"Being involved in international Congresses such as AOFOG has given me the possibility to connect with other specialists and women's health professionals not just from within Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand, but from around the entire Asia and Oceania region. My experience from attending previous AOFOG events has brought home to me that few challenges are totally unique, and the AOFOG Congress expanded my professional networks and approaches to healthcare." - Dr Benjamin Bopp

"Attending the AOFOG Congress in 2024 broadened my professional connections and friendships beyond Australia and New Zealand. I established relationships that have been meaningful and long-lasting, enhancing my clinical knowledge and expertise. Exposure to new ways of thinking, communicating, and problem solving, and connecting with colleagues in our part of the world has been refreshing. It's expanded my world." - Dr Vijay Roach

"Being able to connect with colleagues from such a diverse range of countries and learn about innovations in women's health is one of the main reasons I keep returning. Since attending the previous AOFOG Congress, I have been able to apply technologies and ideas I discovered there to further my research projects in Australia. Every healthcare system approaches challenges a little differently, and there is always something innovative to learn from colleagues throughout the region." - Jared Watts

Discover Your Clinical Edge At AOFOG 2026

The scientific program is now live, delivering a forward-looking toolkit designed around "Equivolution: Equity and Sustainability in Women's Health." Rather than just reviewing standard guidelines, these sessions push the boundaries of clinical practice, matching cutting-edge research with the practical realities of frontline patient care.

AOFOG 2026 Pre-Congress Workshop Spotlight:

This intensive 7-hour program provides an essential clinical update for all practitioners involved in antenatal and intrapartum management. By breaking down the complex physiology behind fetal heart rate control and uteroplacental function, the step-by-step curriculum systematically sharpens your cardiotocography interpretation skills. You will finish the day by completing the official multiple-choice assessment to validate your practical competency.

Many of our workshops are accredited for RANZCOG CPD hours, and we encourage you to explore our workshops to see which specific sessions qualify.
